

Can you help?

I am working on a project for Portland Basin Museum in Ashton in celebration of International Women's Day 2016.

I am looking for BME female artists/creators to submit their work exploring 'taboo' subjects, this can include anything from race, religion, cultural identity, immigration, mental health, addiction, domestic abuse etc...

I am hoping this will allow a space for BME women to showcase their work exploring these important issues that are often not discussed, the work will also raise awareness amongst the visitors of the museum.

The chosen pieces will then be displayed at the museum throughout the month of March.

Alternatively individuals can come together and produce a group project and submit it as a collective. If you require a venue to do this, please let me know as soon as possible.

The deadline for this project is 29th February 2016.

The items submitted can range from paintings, posters, banners, zines, mood boards, photography etc... as long as the item can be displayed, it can be submitted.

If you are interested in getting involved, or require further information, please email Kadija Ollow on k.ollow91@hotmail.co.uk
