

FarmStart APPLICATIONS OPEN!

The FarmStart initiative provides an opportunity to test out and build a livelihood on the land, and aims to help support a brand new generation of organic vegetable producers in the North West. Breaking down some of the traditional barriers to starting a farming career, it provides access to affordable land, shared equipment and infrastructure, training and supported access to markets.

The programme is suitable for experienced gardeners and allotment-holders who are interested in exploring organic vegetable production on a larger, commercial scale, as well as those with farm labouring experience who are interested in establishing their own land-based businesses.
