

Hough End Hall: Let's make it ours!

This is a the Grade II listed, former family home of the Mosley family in Chorlton is up for sale. This would be great opportunity for us to buy it and keep it in the community for use by the community. The building has a long history, being built in 1586, and said to be "the best, the only major Elizabethan mansion of Manchester red brick...with mullioned and ransomed windows and gables".

It has been empty for too long and now is the time to bring it into community ownership and make it a hub for our meetings, exhibitions, functions and other exciting cultural activities in Chorlton.

A group of us from Chorlton, backed by the Civic Society think we should try and raise the money to buy the Hall and then to run it as a community centre.

We are looking for anyone with a passion for preserving our heritage to join us and making it work for our community.
